

Beware of fraudulent job offers

This is to notify the public that some unscrupulous persons posing themselves as employees/representatives/agents of Indian Institute of Banking & Finance (IIBF), Mumbai and its associate/offices with ulterior motive to earn wrongful gain and/or cheat the public at large are fraudulently offering jobs online on certain websites/through telephone calls/WhatsApp soliciting prospective candidates for job.

It has come to our notice that these people are using the name and logo of Indian Institute of Banking & Finance (IIBF) with a view to tarnish the image and reputation of Indian Institute of Banking & Finance.

We wish to caution the general public that Indian Institute of Banking & Finance HAS NEITHER appointed NOR authorised any person or agency to offer jobs to people online on such websites, or to act on our behalf or use the name and logo/websites to such fraudulent activities.

The public in general are advised not to be attracted or lured by any of their communication which solicit payment or otherwise.

In case any member of the public is lured and offered a job with the Company and parted with any money in the form of token money, service charges, refundable or non-refundable security deposit, advance or in any other name; or accepted employment from such fraudulent entities or persons, it will be at the sole responsibility of the persons concerned/ candidate. Indian Institute of Banking & Finance will not accept any liability for the actions of candidates/persons on such spoofed mails/communications.